GPS Addresses for Launch Sites

I did the best I could to locate a usable GPS address for each of our seven points tournaments. Be aware that some of the locations just don't have addresses since they are so remote. For example, the launch at Lake Lillinonah is at Steel Bridge off of County Road 133. The steel bridge that crosses over the lake doesn't have an address. So for that particular launch site, I found the next available address past the bridge. So your GPS unit should (and I stress should because my experience with the GPS navigation units are far from perfect) guide you to the bridge and you need to look for the launch on the right.

Good luck, and be sure to pick up the written directions for each location as a backup.
